22nd February 2021

Dear Parent/Carer,

Firstly, I hope that you have had a good, relaxing half term which included some time to unwind and have a break from school!

As you will be aware, we are all awaiting a Government announcement later today. The announcement will hopefully give further details regarding the next phases of National Lockdown arrangements. These arrangements will hopefully include plans for the very welcome d return to school of all pupils/staff. Let's hope that the Prime minister delivers the news that we all want to hear.

I am sure, from past experiences, that this announcement will then be followed by further consultation and finer details. The planned 'Road Map,' and further finite specifics will be taken into account and will result with plans being shared with you all in good time as always.

You will be well informed and as always, I will welcome any questions thereafter. Please do keep an eye on our usual channels for notifications over the next week or so.

Thank you for your understanding and support which is always second to none.

Yours sincerely,

Mr Scott (Headteacher)
